CARGO LOGISTICS

where time comes first

Mission

Time Cargo logistics prime mission is to help its valuable customers in managing
"Just in Time inventory system"

Moving with the times

Our cargo customers, most of the ones we know, are getting a lot more in less time. They are getting more services under tighter deadlines with more vendors. We have even more pressure to keep the time and cost down. And, do you think we get extra time to cope with all this extra work? The chances are less.

If you are a cargo company, you have naturally got the same problems as your customers - the time factor, plus the added burden of stiffer competition. You know that nearly 35% of your revenue goes to covering sales and administration cost. On some jobs it's a lot more than that. And now your customers are asking you to move more and more cargo in lesser time. Do you think things are going to change any time soon? The chances are less.

Profile

Time Cargo Logistics (TCL), a company with multiple specializations, has been working on various transportation and distributions projects since 1990. TCL has developed advanced solutions in order to face the ever-increasing requirements resulting from technological and industrial progress.

TCL tunes synergically its organization with customer, production and requirement: where the manufacturing cycle ends, TCL's logistics service begins. TCL combines its flexible and coordinated services to customers's marketing strategies, programs and requirements, and handles all stages of the distribution process, thus sharply reducing the waste of time and resources at all stages. Services range from packing and storage to transport and delivery to the end user through interactive computerized management and fiscal procedures.

Transport of high-tech items

TCL also specializes in the transport of high-tech equipment. TCL designs and builds special equipment to transport high-tech items, from computers to the most sophisticated oil and gas components, with constant monitoring of vibrations, temperature and relative humidity.

Time Cargo Logistics has the advantage of...

- All the major markets in the Middle East are less than 24 hours away by road
- All major ports in the Gulf are less than 48 hours away by sea
- Europe is just 14 days away; Japan 20 days and south East Asia 9 days sailing time away
- Over 125 of world's major container shipping lines have Dubai as their port of call; with feeder vessels to Iran, Africa, Red Sea and the Indian sub-continent
- Dubai International airport is just 30 minutes by road and is serviced by more than 80 airline to over 130 destinations
